2 Eleven year old Davyon Johnson of Muskogee, OK had a superhero day recently, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. While at school he spotted a classmate choking; the boy had accidentally swallowed a bottle cap. His school's principal, Latricia Dawkins, told a reporter from the Enid News & Eagle that "Davyon immediately sprinted over and did the Heimlich maneuver. From the account of the witnesses, when he did it the bottle cap popped out." Later that day he saw a handicapped woman standing on the porch of a burning house holding on to her walker. The youngster told Tulsa's News on 6 "I thought, 'Oh, she's not moving fast enough. So I ran across the street and helped her.'"

Ask Rusty - Will I have any Social Security benefits?

Dear Rusty: I'm 60 years of age and wonder if I will have any Social Security retirement benefits. After all, I did purchase them.

Signed: Uncertain

Dear Uncertain: Your eligibility for Social Security benefits depends upon your lifetime earnings history from work, from which Social Security FICA taxes were withheld. If you have worked, contributed to SS while working, and have earned at least 40 "quarters" of credit, you will be entitled to Social Security benefits. You can earn up to four credits each year by earning a specific amount of money, which means you must have worked for about 10 years contributing to Social Security in order to be eligible for Social Security benefits. For 2022, you will get 4 credits if you earn at least $6040 (the amount needed per credit varies by year). The amount of benefit you will get depends upon your average monthly earnings (adjusted for inflation) over the highest-earning 35 years of your lifetime. The higher your annual earnings (from which FICA tax was withheld), the more your SS benefit will be. But you must have worked, earned and contributed to SS for at least 35 years to get your maximum benefit. SS always uses 35 years of earnings to compute your benefit and if you have fewer, they will put $0 earnings in some years to make it 35. They will use the monthly average of those 35 years to determine your primary benefit (known as your "Primary Insurance Amount" or "PIA" which is what you get at your full retirement age (FRA). You cannot collect your personal SS retirement benefit until you are at least 62 years old, but if you claim at that age your benefit will be permanently reduced by 30%. You can only get your full SS benefit by waiting until your full retirement age (age 67 for you) to claim your Social Security. Claiming any earlier means a smaller benefit, but you can also

3 Things To Know About Strokes

Strokes, the second-leading cause of death globally, affect millions of people each year. A stroke can cause lasting disability and unimaginable pain for those impacted and their loved ones.

This year, 14.5 million people globally will have a stroke and 5.5 million people will die as a result, according to the World Stroke Organization. This World Stroke Day, learn how to reduce your risk for stroke, how to identify the signs and symptoms and why timely response and treatment are critical.

1. Talk to your doctor about ways to prevent stroke

A stroke occurs when a blood vessel that carries oxygen and nutrients to the brain is either blocked by a clot (ischemic stroke) or bursts (hemorrhagic stroke). When this happens, part of the brain cannot get the blood and oxygen it needs, causing brain cells to die.

Aging Has Got Easier For America's Seniors But COVID May Reinforce Ageist Notions

By John Grimaldi

It's not how old you are; it's how old you feel. Survey after survey show that the majority of senior citizens don't feel like senior citizens. They feel younger and more active than they thought they'd be - whether you ask a 55 year old or a 70 year old. "When we were kids, old folks looked and acted old; today's kids are amazed at the energy and spunk of 70 year olds and even 80 year olds they encounter," says Rebecca Weber, CEO of the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC].

Meantime, the COVID pandemic may be giving youngsters new ageist notions, she warns.

The Website <https://brightside.me/> says it's all because we each have our own biological clock and it rarely coincides with our biological age. American researchers have come to the conclusion that biological aging in recent years has been happening more slowly, which is why subsequent generations stay younger looking longer. The plain fact is that most of America's 70 year olds and 80 year olds don't feel or look their age these days

One study, the results of which were reported last year, compared two groups of seniors. The first group consisted of individuals who were born between 1910 and 1914. They were between the ages of 75 and 80 when they were interviewed and examined. Participants in the second group were born between 1938 and 1943. They, too, were evaluated in the same manner at the ages of 75 and 80. The results showed that those in the second group were stronger and living to older ages with better physical functioning.

Another study polled 2,000 individuals 65 years of age and older. Seventy-two percent of them reported feeling younger than their chronological ages might suggest and some 50% said they felt younger by 15 years.

What a deal for churches!

We want to start 2022 on the good foot, so please remember that any church in the county is eligible for a free ad from the friendliest newspaper in Montgomery County. Why? Well, we've been doing this a while because we think it's the right thing to do. The way the program works is fairly simple. The Paper will give small ads at no cost to any church inside Montgomery County. The church provides basics like service times and contact info, and can include a message of faith and inspiration. With the pandemic, virtual services are expanding and info on that might be included. The normal cost of the ad is $50 to $65 and The Paper is absorbing 100 percent of the cost. To take advantage, just contact Paper Publisher Tim Timmons at ttimmons@thepaper24-7.com

Twice Convicted Sex-offender Arrested With Child Sexual Abuse Material

A Crawfordsville man was arrested Tuesday on criminal charges related to his alleged possession of child sexual abuse material.

According to court documents, an investigation into Christopher Gene Beke, Sr., 43, began with a report by Google LLC, after the company determined a Google user uploaded sexually explicit images of minors to Google servers in 2021. The Indiana Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force received these reports, and the Montgomery County Sheriff's Office identified the Google user as Beke, Sr., who had prior convictions for Child Molesting and Possession of Child Pornography. Upon execution of a search warrant, and with the assistance of "Hunter", IMPD's Electronic Detection K-9, Beke was found to be in possession of devices that contained sexually explicit images of minors. Beke admitted to police that his phone would contain illegal images.

"This case is a great example of how an international corporate giant like Google can use technology to detect child sexual abuse images being stored online and then quickly get that information into the hands of local law enforcement officers," said United States Attorney Zachary A. Myers. "Using these internationally generated leads, our ICAC Task Force can put local boots on the ground to stop people who traffic in sexually explicit images of children. And a special thanks for the incredible work of our law enforcement partners in Montgomery County."

"Detective French and Detective Kirby have worked tirelessly on these cases, and we are grateful for our partnerships with the ICAC Task Force," said Montgomery County Sheriff Ryan Needham. "We will continue to commit all of our resources to these types of crimes and work with our partners to ensure we do our part in keeping children safe."

Beke, Sr. is charged with Possession of a Visual Depiction of a Minor Engaged in Sexually Explicit Conduct (with a Prior Conviction). The defendant made his initial court appearance today, before U.S. Magistrate Judge Doris L. Pryor of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Indiana and was ordered detained pending trial. If convicted, Beke, Sr. faces a sentence of at least 10 years in federal prison. A federal district court judge will determine any sentence after considering the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is investigating the case. The Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department, the Indiana State Police, the Crawfordsville Police Department, the Montgomery County Sheriff's Office (including the County Sex Offender Registrar), and the Montgomery County Prosecutor's Office also provided valuable assistance.

U.S. Attorney Myers thanked Assistant U.S. Attorney Kristina Korobov who is prosecuting the case.

This investigation was conducted by the Indiana Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force, a partnership of federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies led by the Indiana State Police. The Task Force is dedicated to investigating and prosecuting crimes involving the technology-facilitated sexual exploitation of children and the trafficking of child sexual abuse material. Each year, Indiana ICAC investigators evaluate thousands of tips, investigate hundreds of cases, and rescue dozens of children from ongoing sexual abuse. In fiscal year 2019, the Southern District of Indiana was second out of the 94 federal districts in the country for the number of child sexual exploitation cases prosecuted.

Additionally, this case was brought as part of Project Safe Childhood, a nationwide initiative launched in May 2006 by the Department of Justice to combat the growing epidemic of child sexual exploitation and abuse. Led by U.S. Attorneys' Offices and the Child Exploitation and Obscenity Section, Project Safe Childhood marshals federal, state, and local resources to better locate, apprehend and prosecute individuals who exploit children via the internet, as well as to identify and rescue victims. For more information about Project Safe Childhood, please visit www.justice.gov/psc.

Bookwalter Challenges Jim In IN District 4 Primary

T. Charles Bookwalter, a veteran of the US Army Special Forces and resident of Boone County Indiana, threw his hat into the ring to challenge House Republican incumbent Jim Baird in the Indiana District 4 primary on May 3.

Charles "Charlie" Bookwalter grew up in Vermillion County and graduated from Indiana University with a degree in legal studies and a minor in political science. Following September 11, 2001, he enlisted in the US Army Special Forces as a Special Forces Senior Medical Sergeant. He completed two combat tours, earning multiple awards including the Bronze Star for service in combat. He remained on active duty until 2012.

After returning to Indiana, Charlie reconnected with a close friend he met while interning at the Pentagon. Together they developed a commercial property in Frankfort, Indiana. While working for Intuitive Surgical 2014-2021 as a medical device surgical representative, he opened a Jimmy John's as the anchor store in that property.

Charlie lives in Throntown, Indiana on a small homestead with his wife Beverly. They homeschool their three daughters, Natalie, Josephine, and Sadie. He is an active member and servant at Lebanon Christian Church.

A firm believer in personal liberty and small government, Charlie is fighting against mask and Covid vaccine mandates, inflation due to endless stimulus programs, and government involvement in our schools. He is passionate about fair and transparent elections and maintaining our 2nd Amendment liberties. "These are not radical positions, but the core beliefs of the Republican Party that my opponent is not willing to fight for," said Bookwalter.

Rokita Takes Action Against Illegal Immigration

Rokita today announced a multistate lawsuit seeking to stop the Biden administration from unlawfully granting special privileges to illegal immigrants. He made the announcement while in Texas, where he was gathering evidence for the next steps in Indiana's efforts to combat illegal immigration.

"Every elected official has a constitutional duty to protect our liberties, and that is why I am taking action. The flood of illegal immigrants entering the U.S. is a problem that harms all of us," Attorney General Rokita said. "The ones paying the price for this lawlessness are Hoosier taxpayers, who must bear increased costs for health care, education and other services used by illegal immigrants."

Specifically, the lawsuit asks a U.S. district court to stop a program granting certain illegal aliens from El Salvador, Guatemala or Honduras the ability to petition the federal government to bring their minor children into the United States.

Beneficiaries under the "Central American Minors Program," or "CAM" — which has never been approved by Congress — are not only permitted to enter and reside within the United States for a practically indefinite period, but their travel arrangements from their home countries are provided through taxpayer funds.

This is Rokita's second trip to the border in three months. Last fall, he visited several locations along the U.S.-Mexico border to get a firsthand look at the crisis. A video overview of that trip is available here.

"We welcome migrants to the United States who are grateful to be here and want to restart their lives under the values this country was founded upon," Attorney General Rokita said. "The first way they can show that is by following our laws. Those who do not should not be allowed to stay."

Attorney General Rokita has helped lead the fight against the Left's soft coddling of illegal immigrants, such as when he led a 16-state coalition last August aimed at stopping President Joe Biden from shelving former President Donald Trump's successful "Remain in Mexico" policy. The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in favor of Attorney General Rokita and the coalition. Although the Biden administration continues its efforts to undo the Trump policy, the federal government in December submitted to the court ruling and resumed the "Remain in Mexico" policy for now.

City Of West Lafayette Is Now Seeking Proposals For New Public Art Initiative

The Arts Federation (TAF) and West Lafayette Public Arts Team (WLPAT) have announced that they are requesting proposals from artists, art teams, and design firms for the design, fabrication, and installation of a multi-year public art initiative. This project will be administered by TAF in partnership with the West Lafayette Redevelopment Commission and WLPAT.

"We are using this request for proposals to identify a partner who can be responsive to our community's aesthetic desires and engagement level," says WLPAT Chair Ann Fields Monical. "We think a longer term relationship that produces a series of artworks will be of great benefit to the city, its residents, and its growing public art collection."

The West Lafayette Redevelopment Commission will invest $50,000 for the project's first year of implementation, which is scheduled to produce an initial design concept in summer 2022. WLPAT plans to budget for the project to continue over the next five years.

WLPAT says the end goal of this project is to create a series of large-scale public art pieces that are interactive, playful, and add vibrance to West Lafayette. The locations of the installations will be determined by collaboration between WLPAT and the selected artist or firm.

Fields Monical says that "WLPAT is made up of community members. We have drafted a list of themes for the RFP that we hope inspire potential partners for this project. We'd like to see ideas that reflect our outdoor environment, monumental works that contrast with the surrounding landscape, or other types of sculptures and installations that encourage interaction." Interested applicants should visit The Arts Federation's website to download a copy of the official Request for Proposals.

About The Arts Federation

The organization provides educational opportunities in the visual, performing, and literary arts, outreach programs for both underserved communities and youth, and funding for capital and operational expenses to fellow arts organizations region-wide. More information is available at theartsfederation.org.

IN Dept. Of Education Encourages Participation In Summer Meals Program

The Indiana Department of Education (IDOE) encourages schools and qualified community organizations to participate in the 2022 Summer Food Service Program.

The Summer Food Service Program reimburses local sponsors that serve healthy free meals and snacks to children 18 years old and younger. Sponsorship is open to public and private nonprofit groups, including local governments, summer camps, religious organizations and recreation centers. Organizations may also consider partnering with an existing sponsor, such as a school corporation, to serve students in areas where children may lack good nutrition during the summer months.

In 2021, more than 280 Indiana sponsors served nearly 22 million meals during the summer months. In addition to providing free meal service in a local community, many sponsors also offer educational or physical activities for students.

Created in 1968, the Summer Food Service Program is funded and operated by the U.S.

Department of Agriculture (USDA) and is administered by the states. Participating organizations must adhere to all USDA regulations. The program is funded through a reimbursement based on the number of meals served to eligible participants. Any student age 18 or under is eligible to receive meals through the Summer Food Service Program by visiting a meal site.

The application deadline for new sponsors is April 15, 2022. IDOE will host multiple required webinars for new and returning sponsors.

December Indiana Employment Report

Indiana's unemployment rate fell from 3.0% in November to 2.7% in December—a record low for the state dating back to 1976, according to the Indiana Department of Workforce Development (DWD).

In addition, private sector employment jumped by 10,900 over the last month and has now increased for six of the last seven months. This has resulted in a gain of 82,400 jobs year-over-year. Total private employment now stands at 2,705,500—35,000 below the December 2019 peak of 2,740,500.

"With a 2.7% unemployment rate and more than 150,000 job postings statewide, there are now more employment and economic opportunities available than there have been in several decades," DWD Commissioner Fred Payne said. "We will continue to offer Hoosier job seekers the proper skills training to secure the job of their choice, and Hoosier employers the tools to find workers to fit their needs."

By comparison, the national unemployment rate dropped from 4.2% in November to 3.9% in December.

Learn more about how unemployment rates are calculated here: <https://www.hoosierdata.in.gov/infographics/employment-status.asp>.

December 2021 Labor-Force

Indiana's labor force had a net decrease of 8,774 over the previous month, due to an increase of 3,836 employed residents and a decrease of 12,610 unemployed residents.

Indiana's total labor force, which includes both Hoosiers employed and those seeking employment, stands at 3.31 million. The state's labor force participation rate of 62.4% remains above the national rate of 61.9%.

delay longer and earn Delayed Retirement Credits (DRCs) up to age 70, when your maximum benefit would be 24% more than it would be at your FRA. You have an 8 year window to claim your Social Security, and when you claim within that window determines how much of your primary SS benefit you will get.

If you claim before your FRA and you continue to work, Social Security places a limit on how much you can earn before they take away some of your benefits. For example, someone who claims at age 63 in 2022 would have an annual earnings limit of $19,560, and if that were exceeded SS would take away benefits equal to $1 for every $2 over the limit (a monthly limit may be imposed if you claim mid-year). The earnings limit applies until FRA is reached, after which there is no longer a limit to how much can be earned.

The easiest way to determine your eligibility for Social Security benefits and how much that benefit would be at different ages is to obtain a Statement of Estimated Benefits from the Social Security Administration. You can request that by calling SS at 1.800.772.1213, but you can also get it yourself by creating your personal "my Social Security" online account at www.ssa.gov/myaccount. Once you have created your personal online account you can see your lifetime record of earnings and download your Statement of Estimated Benefits to understand whether you are entitled to Social Security benefits and, if so, how much your benefit will be if claimed at various ages.

STROKE From Page A1

While strokes can be devastating and deadly, up to 90% are preventable and many risk factors can be controlled before they cause a stroke. By managing conditions like high blood pressure, diabetes, obesity and atrial fibrillation (AFib); ceasing smoking; eating a healthy diet; getting regular exercise; and taking all prescribed medications, you can decrease your risk. Treating AFib, an irregular heart rhythm disorder, is particularly important as it is associated with a five-fold increased risk of ischemic stroke.

2. Recognize signs and symptoms of stroke

When a stroke occurs, acting F.A.S.T. can help you get timely treatment needed to survive. If you recognize the signs and symptoms of a stroke – face weakness, arm weakness, speech slurring – it's time to call for help.

When F.A.S.T. is a commonly used acronym to identify the signs of stroke, it is important to understand the relationship between a stroke and the time it takes to receive care. When brain cells die, brain function is lost. In fact, 1.9 million brain cells are lost every minute someone is having a stroke. Quickly identifying signs of a stroke and seeking immediate treatment can save your life or reduce long-term disability. Reducing the amount of time between the onset of stroke and treatment can make a difference in how well your brain, arms, legs, speech and thinking are able to recover.

"Stroke can be a deadly and devastating neurological event," said Mark Dickinson, worldwide president, CERENOVUS, a company committed to changing the trajectory of stroke and offering a broad portfolio of devices used in the endovascular treatment of stroke. "Yet when care and treatment is sought in a timely way, the chances of survival and recovery can increase significantly. This World Stroke Day – and every day – we must continue to raise awareness of the signs and symptoms of stroke and the need to seek timely medical care. With stroke, every second and every minute counts."

3. Know your treatment options for stroke

Seeking treatment for stroke immediately means you have more treatment options available to you, such as being eligible to receive tissue plasminogen activator or mechanical thrombectomy (MT) for ischemic stroke, the most common type of stroke. MT, a minimally invasive blood clot retrieval procedure, helps the chances you'll survive an ischemic stroke and make a full recovery. Treatment options for hemorrhagic stroke include surgery to remove, repair or clip a ruptured aneurysm.

JOHN From Page A1

Says AMAC's Weber, these longevity statistics should be powerful weapons for combating the menace of ageism—the stereotyping, prejudice and discrimination against people on the basis of their age. According to the Institute on Aging "Just because we age, doesn't mean we should be treated differently because of it." One would think that the fact seniors have been steadily becoming the majority in our population for quite some time might serve to discourage ageism; the statistics show that about 10,000 Americans celebrate their 65th birthdays each and every day. But it has done little to discourage the bias of aging.

The Reframing Aging Initiative [RAI] describes ageism as an implicit bias – the unconscious attitudes and beliefs that lead to snap judgments about older people. The RAI says ageism is bad for our health and for our economy. It makes us sick and costs "our nation billions in avoidable health care costs. Ageism [also] stifles the economy by limiting the participation of older workers, despite their years of experience."

So how do these "unconscious attitudes" form. Some say it is due to the stereotyping by younger generations as a means of rebelling against the authority of their elders. That may be true and, if so, perhaps the pandemic has exacerbated the notion, according to Weber.

She cites an American Psychological Association [APA] report that COVID may reinforce ageist beliefs. The APA report cites Shevaun Neupert, PhD, a professor of psychology at North Carolina State University, who says that messages "such as 'stay home and protect your grandmother' could both shape how younger people think about older adults now and how they themselves will think about being older as they age. This is a transformational time to imagine how generations of people will experience aging now and in the future."

CEO Weber believes, however, "it is always important to remember 'It's not how old you are; it's how old you feel'."
