THREE THINGS You Should Know:

1 The Cooper's Hill Cheese-Rolling race sounds like a pretty tame competition. It takes place each year in the quaint British village of Brockworth. But it's not for the faint of heart, warns the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. It was an officially sanctioned event until 2010 when things got a bit out of hand as the result of its growing popularity. Too many contenders were showing up causing near-riot conditions as contestants chased a nine-pound wheel of Double Gloucester cheese down a very steep hillside. Notwithstanding the likelihood of breaking an arm or a leg, the race continues to attract the hundreds of participants from all over the world. The dangers were heightened at this year's event due to wet weather.

2 On Saturday, June 11, Aspen Dental locations nationwide will open their doors to provide free care to military veterans across the country. Now in its 8th year, the Day of Service provides much-needed dental care for veterans at no cost to honor their service and break down barriers to health care. Appointments are required: call 1-844-277-3646 (1-844-ASPENHMM) to schedule.

3 Safe use and handling of firearms is an essential part of being a responsible hunter. Indiana Hunter Education Courses provide instruction and information about firearm safety, hunter ethics and responsibility, animal identification, and conservation management. Anyone born after December 31, 1986 needs to be certified in Hunter Education before they can purchase a hunting license.

"I only live for your love and your kiss. It's paradise to be near you like this. Because of you, my life is worthwhile, And I can smile...because of you. Because of you there's a song in my heart. Who here cringes when they go to the grocery store these days? No, I am not talking about the ever-increasing price of food but instead the bombardment of labels claiming low carb this, Keto that. It leaves me saying I love my carbs, what's so wrong with them any-ways? Well carbohydrates as a whole aren't so bad, they are beneficial for our health as an energy source, gut health and even heart health. But not all carbohydrates are created equal. Sugar is a carbohydrate and it is naturally found in many foods. Fruits, whole grains and beans are great examples of foods that

Births

A daughter, Lyla Grayce Wyant, was born June 7, 2022 at Witham Health Services to Madyson Wyant of Frankfort. The baby weighed 5 pounds 8 ounces. She is Madyson's first child. Maternal grandparents are Jeremy Wyant of Frankfort and Tiffany Campbell of Lebanon.

How To Read A Redhead!

My wife is a redhead. We went to New York last month and several strangers commented about how thick and beautiful her hair is. Sometimes when I ask Mary Ellen what she is planning for the next morning, she'll say, "Washing my hair." Then I say, "Okay, how about tomorrow afternoon?" And she says, "Drying my hair." Because I have less hair (way less), I can achieve both of those tasks in about 90 seconds. Mary Ellen will admit that she has a few gray hairs on her head. I also have a few gray hairs, but that's all I have.

Are redheads different in temperament and personality? Research conducted at a Kentucky university reports that women with red hair required more drugs to alleviate pain and more anesthesia for surgeries. The study was tough to carry out because it is difficult to tell when a person is fully anesthetized. It's also difficult to determine who is a natural redhead.

Why would anyone study something like this? Where would they get the idea that hair color has anything to do with what determines someone's personality? Gee, the next thing you know, some jerk will start telling jokes about blondes.

The researchers asked brunettes and redheads to voluntarily allow themselves to be hooked up to electrodes so scientists could shock them with a gradually increasing intensity while at the same time allowing the subjects to increase the dosage of pain relievers being self-administered.

This experiment, which I thought had been outlawed by some international treaty after WWII, apparently proved that redheads did, in fact, require a lot more meds to withstand the pain. Either that, or they enjoyed the high they were getting, and they saw no reason to end the session. Both groups—but brunettes even more so—were grumpy and vocal about the pain. This was not reported by the scientists because they didn't want to give electric shock experiments a bad name. I didn't share the article with my wife, since I wanted to do a little independent study of my own. My friend's wife is a brunette, so he and I came up with some test situations. Based on an entire weekend of exhaustive research, we discovered some differences between redheads and brunettes...at least from the husband's standpoint.

According to our findings, a man with a redheaded wife:

1. Requires a 20-percent more expensive restaurant to get out of the dog house.
 2. Needs 15 percent more pleading to play Pickleball on the weekend.
 3. Will be 12 percent later for the symphony.
 4. Is 14 percent more likely to say the wrong thing at a party.
 5. Will tell 80 percent fewer jokes about people with freckles.
 6. Will spend 35 percent more time saying to clerks at Christmastime: "My wife can't wear that color."
 7. If he's smart, is 100 percent less likely to accuse her of being "fiery" when she gets angry.
- I have not shown these results to Mary Ellen, but I plan to mention them briefly over breakfast tomorrow. No, wait—she won't have time to look at them. Tomorrow's the day she washes her hair.

Sens. Braun, Marshall Introduce Bill To Allow COVID Relief Funds To Be Used To Harden Schools

Yesterday, U.S. Senator Mike Braun joined Sen. Roger Marshall, M.D. and Representative Mike Garcia (CA-25) in introducing the the Safe Schools Act, legislation to allow COVID relief dollars allocated to schools through the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) Fund to be used by schools to harden themselves with physical security measures, such as locks, panic buttons, individual room security systems, video surveillance, and hiring and paying the salaries of armed school resource officers. The legislation will exempt expenses for school security improvements from current ESSER guidelines that require expenses to be related to COVID-19. Senators Tim Scott, Thom Tillis, Steve Daines, Rick Scott, Chuck Grassley, Todd Young and Jerry Moran have cosponsored the legislation.

"Too often our schools are tragically viewed as 'soft targets.' The remaining 'COVID relief funds that have been largely unused or mismanaged would be well spent protecting our children by hardening schools and bolstering school security," said Senator Braun.

"While we made some progress in previous legislation to make our schools stronger, harder, and safer, certainly there is more that can and must be done immediately to protect kids," said Senator Marshall. "What happened in Uvalde was a horrific tragedy. While many have been quick to play politics, one thing we can all agree on is that Congress must act to harden schools. For these reasons, I am introducing this legislation that allows the abundance of unused COVID relief dollars to be allocated to secure schools in Kansas and throughout the nation." "Now more than ever, we must be proactive in securing our schools. All Constitutional options need to be examined to ensure our children are safe in the classroom. I'm proud to join Senator Marshall in introducing the Safe Schools Act, a common-sense bill that would allow schools to spend leftover COVID relief funds on crucial security improvements to protect students from harm," said Congressman Garcia.

Background:
• The Indiana Department of Education spent less than half of the funds awarded under the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) Fund.

• Nationwide, of the $189.5 billion of COVID money awarded under ESSER, State Education Agencies have yet to spend $150.1 billion (79.2%).

• There were 67 disrupted plots against K-12 schools from 2006-2018 – 66% of the schools had no system for alerting officials to concerning or threatening.

• Recommendations from the Trump Administration's 2018, "Final Report of the Federal Commission on School Safety" included:
o School security strategies should use a layered approach that incorporates multiple, reinforcing echelons of policy, programs, and protective measures.

o Entry control measures limit the number of access points, allow access only to those who should be on the campus, and provide an opportunity to conduct searches of suspicious items or persons.

o Schools can implement security measures such as fencing, bollards, planters, curbs, or walls to create a single point of entry to the campus.

o Video surveillance is a valuable security measure for entry control.

o Depending on their construction, classroom doors can significantly delay or prevent an attacker from reaching individuals in a classroom.

Profiling Purdue's Indiana Football Hall Of Fame Inductees, From A - L

Purdue's membership in the Indiana Football Hall of Fame is growing by three in 2022 with the election of former NFL players Bruce King and Kyle Orton along with the late Alex Yunevich.

The primary criteria for induction is contributing in a significant manner to the game of football in Indiana from the youth level to professional football.

This week we'll profile inductees whose names range from Adams to Letnich. Hall of Famers whose names begin with M through Z will be profiled next week.

Norb Adams – Four-year starter who came to Purdue from Hammond Clark High School. Adams played every minute of all 10 games in 1945 at halfback and defensive back. He was part of the only Purdue trio of running backs (Harry Szulborski, John Kerestes) to gain 100 yards in the same game, a victory over Marquette on Nov. 12, 1949.

Mike Alstott – The Joliet, Ill., native is Purdue's career rushing leader (3,635) and career touchdowns (42). Alstott played 12 seasons in the NFL with Tampa Bay.

Otis Armstrong – The Chicago native still holds Purdue single-game rushing record with 276 yards against Indiana in 1972. Rushed for 3,315 yards in three seasons as a Boilermaker. Big Ten MVP and All-American in 1972. Played eight seasons in the NFL with Denver.

Mike Augustyniak – Turned down by Indiana, Ball State, Indiana State and Saint Joseph's College after starring at Leo High School, Augustyniak went from walk-on to starting fullback on Purdue's Peach and Bluebonnet Bowl teams. He then played three seasons in the NFL with the New York Jets.

Erich Barnes – An All-State defensive back at Elkhart High School, Barnes was a three-year starter at end/defensive back for Purdue. He was a six-time Pro Bowl cornerback during his 14-year NFL career with Chicago, the New York Giants and Cleveland.

Tony Berto – A three-year halfback/safety for Purdue following his service in World War II, the Clinton, Ind., native won a record 203 games as head football coach at Delphi High School.

Darrel "Pete" Brewster – The Portland, Ind., native didn't intend to play football at Purdue, having played the sport just one season in high school. Brewster, a basketball standout as well at Purdue, played nine seasons in the NFL and won two championships with the Cleveland Browns in 1954 and 1955. Brewster also is a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame.

Don Brumm – An All-American defensive end, the Hammond native was a first-round draft pick of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1963. Brumm played nine seasons in the NFL.

Elmer Burnham – Coach of the undefeated 1943 Big Ten Conference champions, three of whom also went on to successful coaching careers: Hank Stram, Alex Agase and Bump Elliott.

Bart Burrell – The receiving half of Purdue's "Carmel Connection" with Mark Herrmann, Burrell caught 140 passes for 2,126 yards and 14 touchdowns.

Frank Bykowski – The South Bend Central graduate was Purdue football's MVP in 1939 and a College All-Star in 1940. Played with Pittsburgh in his lone NFL season (1940).

Jim Carter – One of Purdue's "Touchdown

Twins" in the 1930s with Duane Purvis, the Indianapolis Washington graduate rushed for 1,547 yards as a Boilermaker.

Bill Combs – Long before he became Purdue's team physician, the Lowell native was team MVP in 1941. Combs was honored in 1966 by Sports Illustrated, which selected a 26-man Silver Anniversary team. He played one season for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Len Dawson – "The Golden Boy" came from Alliance, Ohio to lead the NCAA with 15 touchdown passes in 1954. Dawson was the first player in Big Ten history to lead the conference in total offense and passing three consecutive years. The Pro Football Hall of Fame quarterback was MVP of Super Bowl IV.

Bob DeMoss – The patriarch of Purdue's Cradle of Quarterbacks was a four-year starter who gained national attention by leading the Boilermakers to victory at No. 4 Ohio State as a freshman in 1945. Played one season in the NFL before returning to serve as an assistant coach/head coach from 1950 to 1972.

Boris "Babe" Dimancheff – The running back from Indianapolis Washington transferred from Butler to Purdue just in time to play for the 1943 undefeated Big Ten champions. In two seasons Dimancheff rushed for 1,399 yards and was an All-American in 1944 after leading the conference with 12 touchdowns. He played seven seasons in the NFL.

Ed Ehlers – Also a member of the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame, the South Bend native held a rare distinction of being drafted by three pro teams in three different sports (Boston Celtics, Chicago Bears, New York Yankees).

David Ellison – An All-State player at Michigan City Elston, Ellison was chosen Purdue's Most Improved Player as a senior and played in the 1963

East-West Shrine Classic. His Southwestern High School teams (now part of McCutcheon) never lost a conference game in Ellison's nine seasons (44-0-1).

Jim Everett – What's a man from Albuquerque, N.M. doing in the Indiana Football Hall of Fame? That's how good he was in a Purdue uniform. Everett's powerful throwing arm set numerous Purdue records as a two-year starter in 1984-85. With the Los Angeles Rams, Everett twice led the NFL in touchdown passes.

Bernie Flowers – Recruited to Purdue from Erie, Pa., Flowers was a three-year starter at end with 82 receptions for 1,015 yards and eight touchdowns. Earned All-American honors in 1952 after helping Purdue share Big Ten title. Played one season with the Baltimore Colts.

Abe Gibron – Played two seasons at Purdue after transferring from Valparaiso in 1946. The Michigan City Elston product earned All-Big Ten honors as a guard before enjoying four Pro Bowl seasons with the Cleveland Browns from 1952-55.

Bob Griese – Arriving from Evansville Rex Mundi an unpolished passer, Griese developed into the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player in 1966 and All-American in 1965-66. Led the Miami Dolphins to two Super Bowl championships and earned a berth in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Bob Hadrick – Somehow lured to West Lafayette from South Bend Washington in 1962, Hadrick was a three-time All-Big Ten selection as Griese's top receiver. Retired from the FBI after 27 years of service.

Mark Herrmann – Two-time All-State quarterback at Carmel, Herrmann led Purdue's turnaround in the late 1970s. Graduated as the NCAA's all-time passing yards leader (9,946) to go with 71 touchdowns. Most Valuable Player in Peach, Bluebonnet and Liberty bowl victories. Played 11 seasons in the NFL with Denver, San Diego Chargers, Los Angeles Rams and Indianapolis Colts.

Roy Horstmann – An All-American fullback in 1932, the Mishawaka native played two seasons in the NFL for the Boston Redskins and Chicago Cardinals.

Lou Karras – Eldest of three brothers to play in the NFL (Alex, Ted), Karras was Purdue's MVP in 1949 following a stellar high school career at Gary Emerson. Karras, a defensive tackle, played for Washington from 1950 until a career-ending eye injury in 1952.

Dustin Keller – After leading the state with 114 receptions to go with 1,804 yards and 22 touchdowns in 2002, Keller made the short journey from Lafayette Jeff to Purdue. Converted to tight end, Keller would go on to be Purdue's Most Valuable Player as a senior. A first-round draft pick by the New York Jets in 2008, a catastrophic knee injury ended his NFL career after five seasons.

Leroy Keyes – Voted Purdue's greatest player by Boilermaker fans, the Newport News, Va., product was an All-American in 1967 and 1968. Those same years he finished third and second, respectively, in the Heisman Trophy balloting. He left Purdue with 2,090 rushing yards and 1,204 receiving yards. Played five seasons in the NFL with Philadelphia and Kansas City.

Bruce King – An All-State running back from Heritage Hills, King spurned Michigan and Ohio State to play at Purdue. King helped Purdue reach the Peach Bowl in 1984 before a three-year NFL career with Kansas City and Buffalo.

Noble Kizer – Old-time Purdue fans used to wonder what might have been if Kizer hadn't had to give up coaching in 1937 due to a kidney ailment that would kill him three years later at age 40. Kizer was a right guard under Knute Rockne at Notre Dame before coming to Purdue as an assistant coach in 1925. As the head coach, Kizer went 42-13-3 with two Big Ten Conference titles.

Glenn Knecht – From being a center/linebacker for the 1952 Big Ten Conference co-champions to mayor of Crawfordsville. Quite a journey for the Cincinnati native, who went 100-60-7 during his high school coaching career. Most of that was spent with Crawfordsville High School (1959-75) before becoming the city's mayor from 1976 to 1987.

Joe Kodba – The Yugoslavia native, via South Bend Washington, began his football career at Butler but played his final two seasons at Purdue after his discharge from the Army in 1945. A center, Kodba was a College All-Star before his lone pro football season with the Baltimore Colts of the All-America Football Conference in 1947.

Steve Letnich – A first-team All-State quarterback at Valparaiso High School, Letnich began his college career at Air Force before playing his final two seasons at Purdue. Letnich was used as a quarterback, wide receiver and punt returner by coach Fred Akers.

Lamar Lundy – Before becoming the first African-American to receive a football scholarship to Purdue (1953), Lundy was a high school All-American in football and basketball at Richmond High School. Three-year starter at offensive and defensive end for the Boilermakers. Only man in Purdue history to win MVP honors in football and basketball. Spent 13 seasons with the Los Angeles Rams as a member of the "Fearsome Foursome."

Kenny Thompson is the former sports editor for the Lafayette Journal & Courier and an award-winning journalist. He has covered Purdue athletics for many years.

Senator Young, Senator Rosen Introduce Bill To Strengthen Cybersecurity for Medical Devices

U.S. Senators Todd Young (R-Ind.) and Jacky Rosen (D-Nev.) recently introduced their bipartisan Strengthening Cybersecurity for Medical Devices Act to require the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to review and update medical device cybersecurity guidelines and suggestions to ensure devices are protected from possible hacking and cyber attacks. "Medical devices are increasingly connected to the Internet or other health care facility networks to provide features that improve the ability of health care providers to treat patients," said Senator Young. "Our bill helps ensure medical devices are protected from cyberattacks and used safely and securely in order to reduce risks and vulnerabilities for patients." "In light of increased cyber threats, we must strengthen the security of our health care system's cyber infrastructure," said Senator Rosen. "This bipartisan bill I introduced with Senator Young will ensure that medical devices and technologies are up to date with the latest cybersecurity, protecting patients and health care systems." The bipartisan Strengthening Cybersecurity for Medical Devices Act would require the FDA, in consultation with the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA), to review guidance for industry and FDA staff regarding medical device cybersecurity and make updates as appropriate at least every two years. This provision would ensure a more timely review to keep the guidance current. The bill also requires FDA to share information publicly regarding federal resources for health care professionals, medical device manufacturers, and health systems to identify and address cyber vulnerabilities, and access support. Additionally, the bill requires a GAO report examining medical device cybersecurity vulnerabilities and recommendations for improving federal coordination to support cybersecurity for medical devices.

are naturally high in carbohydrates but they are considered nutrient dense foods, because those sugars are naturally occurring. Foods like soft drinks, candy, desserts and sweetened coffee and tea tend to contain large amounts of added sugar and little nutritional value and make up over half of all added sugar consumption in the U.S. populations diet. The U.S. Dietary guidelines recommends to limit your added sugar intake to less than 10% of your daily calorie intake. And the new food label helps us determine how much added sugar is in a food, with it being its own line on the nutrition facts panel.

So, can reducing our carbohydrate intake reduce weight and improve health. Maybe, it depends on what foods you are choosing to consume. Reducing nutrient dense foods like fruits, whole grains and beans are going to drastically reduce your fiber intake and potentially lead to digestive health issues. However, limiting our added sugar intake means that we are probably increasing our consumption of nutrient dense foods, which I am confident will improve health markers.

Limiting added sugar is important but eliminating it completely is challenging and possibly unrealistic and unnecessary. Honey or sugar can make a nutrient dense food more enjoyable, plus foods like chocolate bring joy to our lives. And eating foods that make us happy is just as important as foods that are nutrient dense. If consuming foods that are high in added sugars is one of your biggest challenges follow these 5 tips for reducing added sugar intake.

- Reduce your consumption of sugar sweetened beverages. Maybe this means, drink one less soft drink per day or ask for half unsweetened tea with sweetened tea in the drive through.

- Share a dessert or sweet treat with a friend. I enjoy going on an ice cream date with my husband. But sometimes those portions are way too large, so we share.

- Flip the food item over to the back and check the added sugar line on the nutrition facts panel. Compare and purchase the one with less added sugar.

- Eat fruit for a sweet treat. There is nothing better than grilled pineapple. When cooking fruit, you caramelize the natural sugars and create a nice tasty after dinner treat.

- Use sugar alternatives when possible. Wait, did you think those were bad for you too. Tune in to an upcoming Bite by Bite Nutrition for Life podcast episode to learn more about alternative sweeteners.

And remember just because you are following a trendy new diet, doesn't mean that it is automatically low in added sugars. If this article was interesting to you, listen to Purdue Extension Health and Human Science Educators on their podcast Bite by Bite Nutrition for Life, where we help you ask questions, challenge the myths and stay true to you. You can find us on Spotify, Google Podcasts, Breaker, Anchor FM, and Radio Public.

sweet; Never let me go; You have made my life complete, And I love you so. Love me tender, love me true; All my dreams fulfilled; For my darling I love you...And I always will." ("Love Me Tender" Elvis Presley, 1962)

"I hope life treats you kind, And I hope you have all you've dreamed of. And I'm wishing you joy and happiness. But above all this, I wish you love...And I will always love you." ("I Will Always Love You" Dolly Parton, 1974)

...and now this wonderful rap classic:

"I'm a bad boy, with a lotta hoes; Drive my own car, and wear my own clothes, I hang out tough, I'm a real boss. Ok, you got a gun so you want to pop back? AK-47 now n, stop that; Cement shoes, now I'm on the move; You're family's crying, now you on the news; They can't find you and now they miss you; Must I remind you I'm only here to twist you; Pistol whip you, d you, then flip you; Then dance to this m music we Crip to; Subscribe n, get yo issue; Baby, come close, let me get you loose. ("Drop It Likes It's Hot" Snoop Dogg, 2010)

Yes, music changes with each generation. Rap music has become a very popular genre for teenagers in the last twenty years. But is it harmless entertainment? According to recent studies, explicit words, hidden messages, sexual content, and violence-oriented lyrics are found in over three-fourth of the rap songs, and this can cause disrespectful and aggressive behavior. Teens who listen to Rap are three times more likely to get in a fight with a teacher, 2.5 times more likely to be arrested, 1.5 times more likely to be involved in illegal activities such as underage drinking, experimenting with drugs, and getting a sexually transmitted disease. These rappers have become idols to many teenagers. They influence fashion styles, such as below-the-waist baggy pants, and encourage disgusting and decadent lifestyles where money, sex, and drugs are the norm.

Thank you, Snoop Dogg, Eminem, Jay-Z, and all of the other rapper heroes for corrupting a generation of youth... Can someone please bring back Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello...or perhaps Doris Day and Elvis? We need them. We need them now.
