

TODAY'S VERSE

Psalm 119:89 For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven. (KJV)

FACES OF MONTGOMERY

People who call our community their own.

Annie Hess was helping the good folks at Juniper Spoon during the TASTE of Montgomery County. Thanks, Annie!

THREE THINGS You Should Know:

1 Governor Eric J. Holcomb today signed Executive Order 22-13, suspending certain regulations in order to minimize the disruption of adequate fuel supply to Hoosiers and motorists in surrounding states after an electrical fire at the BP Whiting refinery on Aug. 24, which caused it to shut down production.

2 Does the name Joey Chestnut ring a bell? He's the guy who keeps winning those hot dog eating contests that take place in Coney Island each Fourth of July. Apparently frankfurters aren't the only tasty delight that piques his interest, says the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. He holds 55 eating records having devoured record breaking amounts of pork brain tacos, Jalapeno Poppers and even Twinkies, to name a few. And, no, he apparently does not hold the record for eating chestnuts. However, most recently he broke the record for popcorn when he downed 32 twenty-four ounce servings of popcorn in just 8 minutes at a contest held in Indianapolis.

3 If you are one of the many who were Readers' Choice winners in our annual huge recognition promotion, you may be getting e-mails from Showmark, a company trying to sell plaques and such. Please know, that has nothing to do with our company and the actual Readers' Choice program. For years, we have produced the annual popular Readers Choice contest and we give, absolutely free of charge, certificates suitable for framing to our winners, runner-ups and honorable mentions. We're not familiar with this Showmark group, and we certainly don't blame them for trying to wiggle in to one of the biggest contests around, we just want you to know we have never charged a penny for those recognized - and we never will!

CEL&P To "Fill The Bucket" With A Community Food Drive

Crawfordsville Electric Light & Power (CEL&P) employees are hosting our first "Fill the Bucket" community food drive to benefit the FISH Food Pantry of Montgomery County. As your Public Power provider, CEL&P takes pride in providing our customers with reliable, low-cost electricity while giving back to the community we serve.

Thursday - Oct. 4, customers are invited to join CEL&P employees as they "Fill the Bucket" by bringing non-perishable donations to CEL&P's lobby, drive-thru, or given directly to CEL&P employees that you see working in the community.

CEL&P employees will deliver the collected items to the FISH Food Panty on Oct. 5 in coordination with other community service activities the company will be participating in during Public Power Week.

"Crawfordsville Electric Light & Power has been part of the Crawfordsville community for over 130 years," said Phil Goode, General Manager of CEL&P. "The company and employees are always looking for ways to give back to those we serve. Ending the food drive during Public Power Week allows our employees and customers to come together and support our local food bank while celebrating the benefits of public power."

Suggested donation items include, but are not limited to:

- Non-perishable food items such as pasta, soup, peanut butter, and jelly
- Baby formula and baby foods
- Diapers
- Personal care items such as deodorants, hair care products, feminine hygiene, shaving needs, laundry detergent

Please contact CEL&P via email at amcarthur@celp.com or by phone at (765) 362-1900 Ext. 8045 with any questions regarding the food drive.

Film Prompts Questions About Entitlement, Contentment

"Who deserves the right to go down into the Grand Canyon?" "Isn't everyone entitled?" "We are providing a solution to a need."

The League of Women Voters, open to men as well as women, is a nonpartisan, multi-issue political organization that encourages informed and active participation in government. For information about the Montgomery County LWW, visit: www.lwvmont.com or message to LWW, PO Box 101, Crawfordsville, Indiana 47933.

These were the pitches of developers to the council of the Navajo Nation captured in the documentary Into the Canyon. They wanted to build a massive shopping-restaurant-transport complex at the confluence of the Little Colorado and Colorado rivers in the to Teddy Roosevelt's reasoning for establishing protected lands as national parks. The wilderness cannot speak for itself, and the documentary walks the line of competing American ideas: entitlement to have the right, one might call it "the freedom to," versus protecting our national treasures as part of our identity.

Going into a place of such sublime beauty changes a person. So when the position is about the freedom to do something, it's hard to say "No" to anyone. The documentarian's gaze, especially when viewed on a large screen as participants of the final Green Film Series did on Aug. 10, persuades everyone to chime in "YES!" It captures the rich colors, the astounding spans, the sublime heights of the Grand Canyon with the same excellence of Free Solo, the National Geographic documentary

Montgomery County Indiana
Beginning 10:00 AM Local Time,
October 7, 2022

Montgomery County Government Center, Community Meeting Room, 1580 Constitution Row, Suite E, Crawfordsville, IN 47933

STATE OF INDIANA
MONTGOMERY COUNTY

Pursuant to the laws of the Indiana General Assembly, notice is hereby given that the following described property is listed for sale for delinquent taxes and/or special assessments. The county auditor and county treasurer will apply on or after 09/20/2022 for a court judgment against the tracts or real property for an amount that is not less than the amount set out below and for an order to sell the tracts or real property at public auction to the highest bidder, subject to the right of redemption.

Such sale will be held on 10/07/2022 at the Montgomery County Government Center, Community Meeting Room, 1580 Constitution Row, Suite E, Crawfordsville, IN 47933 and that sale will continue until all tracts and real property have been offered for sale.

Property will not be sold for an amount which is less than the sum of:
(A) the delinquent taxes and special assessments on each tract or item of real property; and
(B) the taxes and special assessments on the real property that are due and payable in the year of the sale, whether or not they are delinquent; and
(C) all penalties due on the delinquencies; and
(D) an amount prescribed by the county auditor that equals the sum of:
(1) twenty-five dollars ($25) for postage and publication costs; and
(2) any other costs incurred by the county that are directly attributable to the tax sale; and
(E) any unpaid costs due under IC 6-1.1-24-2(c) from a prior tax sale.

No property listed below shall be sold if, at any time before the sale, the Total Amount for Judgment is paid in full. If the real property is sold in the tax sale, the amount required to redeem such property will be 110% of the minimum bid for which the tract or real property was offered at the time of sale, if redeemed not more than six (6) months after the date of sale, or 115% of the minimum bid for which the tract or real property was offered at the time of sale, if redeemed more than six (6) months after the date of sale, plus the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the minimum bid on the real property plus five percent (5%) per annum interest on the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the minimum bid on the property.

In addition, IC 6-1.1-25-2 (e) states the total amount required for redemption may include the following costs incurred and paid by the purchaser or the purchaser's assignee or the county before redemption: (1) The attorney's fees and cost of giving notice under IC 6-1.1-25-4.5; (2) The costs of title search or examining and update the abstract of title for the tract or item of real property. The period of redemption shall expire on Monday, October 09, 2023 for certificates sold in the tax sale. For certificates struck to the county, the period of redemption may expire Monday, February 06, 2023.

If the tract or item of real property is sold for an amount more than the minimum bid and the property is not redeemed, the owner of record of the property who is divested of ownership at the time the tax deed is issued may have a right to the tax sale surplus.

The Auditor and Treasurer specifically reserve the right to withhold from the sale any parcel which has been listed in error, or which otherwise becomes ineligible for sale either prior to 10/07/2022 or during the duration of the sale.

This notice of real property tax sale, and the tax sale itself are undertaken and will be conducted pursuant to the requirements of the laws of the State of Indiana which regulate the sale of land for delinquent taxes, pursuant to I.C. 6-1.1-24-1 et seq.

The County does not warrant the accuracy of the street address or common description of the property, and a misstatement in the key number or street address does not invalidate an otherwise valid sale.

Minimum bid amounts are prescribed by law and are subject to change prior to the auction date.

Pursuant to IC 6-1.1-24-3(e), property descriptions may be omitted for properties appearing on the certified list in consecutive years. A complete property list may be obtained at www.sriservices.com or in an alternative form upon request.

of a free climber who scales El Capitan in Yosemite. The difference is that it's also a narrative of friends, mentors and spouses committed to fidelity: to healthy relationships with the Canyon's ecosystem and each other, instead of one man's quest.

The central figures of the documentary Pete McBride and Kevin Fedarko and their camera crew give the next-best-thing-to-being-there glimpse, a wilderness that is 277 miles long as the eagle flies. McBride and Fedarko hiked 750 miles because of the ups, downs and diversions it demands of humans. The lush shots rivaled the wonders of the world. So why should ableism prevent anyone from witnessing such wonders? The documentary asks us to wrestle with those hard questions.

What the developers asked the Navajo Nation to weigh was the same hard decisions made worldwide. Is it reasonable to alter the Canyon forever so that those who can afford it may take a tram up and down the side, shop and dine luxuriously while they do?

It's a difficult trade-off. In the six years since the film's release the Colorado River, which flows through the Canyon is facing significant water restrictions affecting many western states. Major rivers and water reservoirs are dropping to "deadpool" when the water levels render the body of water unable to be used for industry. That can include generating hydro-electric power and shipping. Agriculture relies on this water, but around the world major rivers are showing similar signs of the strains of climate extremes: In recent weeks submerged WWII ships have appeared in the Rhine. The Danube is at record lows for shipping. A once submerged Buddhist statue appeared because of record lows in the Yangtze River. In Spain, a reservoir has revealed a 5,000-year-old "Spanish Stonehenge." Back in 2016, McBride and Fedarko struggled in large swaths of their hike to locate water because the water tables had dropped and precipitation was low. Water is life and competition for water divides people, creates conflict and influences migration. Consider Syria, Jordan, Palestine and Israel's long-running conflict for water from the Jordan River.

"Beauty can tell a story," McBride notes in the film. Indeed, the camera captures the layers of rock revealed by the miles between the top and the bottom of the Canyon. Finding snow and frozen puddles that reflect their faces after surviving days of extreme thirst made one utter, "it was like Divine intervention."

In the discussion that followed, participants discussed how more than 350 helicopters bring tourists to extremely remote areas the Canyon daily. The question of who deserves the bottom-of-the-Canyon experience suggests that not only are people limited by their physical ability but also their class. Why do we frame this discussion as an argument that everyone is entitled to the freedom to go to the bottom of the Canyon? Yet, we could also ask, why preserve it if so few can enjoy it?

The question we should ask is not what are we entitled to but what makes us content. Can we be content if we don't get ALL THE THINGS? (There's a meme for that.) How do we measure contentment?

Into the Canyon used lush vistas and two guys who come out of months of hiking together with intact healthy friendship as a call to action. Together if we work on this, and if we can appreciate beauty that has been around thousands of years longer than we have been present, then we can resolve issues of access versus degradation, not mention mining and water. We are all small parts of the whole of creation. Holding our lives in humility and contentment and seeking healthy relationships with our entire planet, not just humans and pets we like, will help.

The call to action is being honest about our complicated relationships with technological progress. On one hand, experiencing this beauty evokes stronger relationships to the world we inhabit and might make us more careful. A movie on the big screen, with all the carbon footprint in it, might do lesser damage, but most of all, what is our starting disposition? How much gratitude can we embrace for the privileges and joys we have? How can we celebrate what other's get that we didn't and live vicariously and joyfully through them if we are unable to embark on the same experience? What does contentment have to do with it all?
