➔ THREE THINGS You Should Know:

1 When it comes to giving babies and their families the best start in life, Franciscan Health goes the extra mile and is inviting others to join them at the seventh annual Race for Kids 5K Run/Walk which will be held on Saturday, June 3. "The Race for Kids is aimed to raise awareness and funds for our Level III Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) and our Pediatric Physical, Occupational and Speech Therapy departments," said Franciscan Health Foundation Director of Development Jennifer Eberly. "All proceeds will help purchase equipment needed to provide a continuum of care for our tiny babies in the NICU and to our children with developmental delays who work hard each week in their therapy appointments."

2 Attention mayors and local officials: It's your time to tout all the great things happening in your areas. Right now, the Indiana Chamber of Commerce is accepting nominations for the 2023 NextEra Energy Resources Community of the Year Award. This annual honor goes to a deserving Hoosier community for significant contributions to its local business climate and overall image during the past year. "It will be exciting to once again honor a community that's taking charge in promoting prosperity and enhancing the quality of life of its residents," says Indiana Chamber President and CEO Kevin Brinegar. "I'm always amazed to see the different strategies used, many of which can be replicated by others."

3 Bipartisan legislation authored by U.S. Senators Mike Braun and Gary Peters to create an artificial intelligence (AI) training program for federal supervisors and management officials has advanced in the Senate. The training program would help improve the federal workforce's understanding of AI applications, and ensure that leaders who oversee the use of these tools understand AI's potential benefits and risks. The bill was advanced by the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee where Peters serves as Chair, and now moves to the full Senate for consideration.

Ask Rusty – I'm Concerned About Social Security Solvency

Dear Rusty: I retired at age 58. My husband and I worked 40 years of employment each. I had a 401K only...no other benefits. We saved, we invested through our financial advisor and have done okay watching our investments grow (except for the last 3 years). Neither my husband nor I have taken Social Security; we were both waiting until age 70 to get full benefits. Do you think this is still wise? I'm concerned there will not be any funds in 5 years when we both turn 70. Signed: Concerned Senior

Dear Concerned Senior: Your question relates to Social Security solvency, no doubt inspired by the recent spate of media discussion on this topic. Most articles I've read promote a "doomsday" scenario and, in fairness, Social Security's financial issues are serious. The latest report from the Trustees of Social Security warned Congress that the reserves now held in Social Security's Trust Fund (which enable full benefits to be paid) will be depleted as early as 2033. What you may not know is that this is not new news - the Trustees have sounded the same warning for decades to multiple Congresses which have neglected to enact corrective measures. And, unfortunately, they are likely to continue to drag their feet for a while because the reform needed is not politically palatable and the impact is still a few years away.

Nevertheless, although Social Security's looming financial issues are serious, they are not fatal. Congress already knows how to fix Social Security's financial issues - they just currently lack the bipartisan spirit and political will needed to do so. The clock, however, is ticking and Congress will be forced to act soon, which we are confident will happen before the Trust Funds run dry. What motivates most politicians is getting reelected and allowing an across the

Physician And Congressman Scott DesJarlais: The HEALTH Act Will Establish Better Relations With Patients

By John Grimaldi

This week Rebecca Weber, CEO of the Association of Mature American Citizens (AMAC), interviewed Congressman Dr. Scott DesJarlais (R-TN) on AMAC's Better For America podcast. They discussed the Helping Everyone Access Long Term Healthcare (HEALTH) Act, a measure that was inspired by AMAC founder Dan Weber and of which Rep. DesJarlais is an original co-sponsor.

The HEALTH Act would allow doctors and other healthcare professionals to provide pro-bono healthcare services to low-income individuals and receive a simple charitable tax deduction in lieu of payment. Rep. DesJarlais explained that soon after he established his medical practice in Tennessee in 1993 he "began to see an over utilization of emergency rooms ... it's been a problem that has grown over the years and that got worse under Obamacare."

He noted that under the current healthcare system, it has become harder and harder for doctors to provide health care to low-income Americans due to increased government rules and regulations. The HEALTH Act is designed to encourage more professionals to engage in pro-bono services by giving them a reduction in taxes for providing free care for those who need it. Noting that some 80% of ER visits are not emergencies, he pointed out that it would help relieve overcrowded conditions in hospital Emergency Rooms.

The HEALTH Act "would also help establish better relationships with the patients," Rep. DesJarlais said. "They would have an actual doctor rather than whoever happens to be working in the ER."

Rep. DesJarlais explained that while those who supported Obamacare may have intended to increase access to healthcare, in reality the current system often fails to provide care to hardworking Americans:

"They always talk about the middle class and protecting the middle class, but if you're not poor enough to qualify for Medicaid and you can't afford private insurance, [you're] stuck. So if you don't work for a company that provides health insurance, you kind of fall into a loophole. So Obamacare inadvertently left out probably some of the hardest working Americans. And so it changed the way people had to look at their employment. It ended up hurting a lot of people." Rep. DesJarlais said.

Sunscreen Is A Great Start To Skin Protection. But Don't Stop There

(StatePoint) The warm weather months serve as an important reminder that the choices you make can help you keep your skin healthy and reduce your risk of developing skin cancer. Experts say that your routine can and should go beyond simply wearing sunscreen.

"Taking care of your skin is absolutely essential no matter your age, skin color, or what time of year it is," says New York City dermatologist, Dr. Rachel Nazarian. "Shielding your skin from damage from the sun and other sources of free radical production will not only help you look and feel your best in the years ahead, it will ultimately help prevent skin cancer."

As you hit up the pool, the beach, the backyard and more this season, here are four skin protection tips to keep in mind:

1. Do the basics. Use a broad-spectrum sunscreen daily. It's one of the most basic steps you can take to protect your skin. Be diligent about application and reapply as needed throughout the day, following the directions of the product you're using.
2. Go above and beyond.

Comingling Old With New!

The Linden Depot Museum is a 501(c) nonprofit museum located in Linden on SR 231 between Lafayette and Crawfordsville. The depot is 113 years old and is on the National Register of Historic Places.

The engine is a replica of an 1837 Norris 4-2-0 steam engine. It was not built for use with live steam. We use a hydraulic motor for power, along with two 12-volt batteries. We recently installed a solar panel to charge the batteries. The solar panel is working well and keeps the batteries charged. We are proud to announce that we have the only solar-powered 1837 "steam" engine in the world. We have combined 1837 and 2023 technology to show that solar power has unlimited uses.

The museum is open Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays from 12 PM to 5 PM. The admission price of $6 for adults and $1 each for children, includes all museum attractions.

This summer we will host the 3rd Annual Midwest Railroad Fair on Saturday, August 12th from 10 AM to 4 PM. The fair will include railroad exhibitors, railroad vendors, food vendors, and much more. During the fair, we will run our 1837 Norris 4-2-0 steam engine. We will make four trips: 10:30 AM, 12 PM, 2:30 PM, and 3:45 PM. Tickets are SOLD OUT. This is a chance of a lifetime to witness 1837 railroad transportation!

The museum is located at 520 N. Main Street, Linden. We can be reached at 765-427-3630. We look forward to your visit!

Wabash College's Tobey Condon '26 Earns U.K. Fulbright Summer Institute Placement

First Wabash student to earn a Fulbright Summer Institute placement.

Wabash College student Tobey Condon '26 has earned a U.K. Fulbright Summer Institute (UKSI) placement to study at Aberystwyth University in Wales.

A native of Menands, New York, Condon is the first Wabash student to earn a Fulbright Summer Institute placement. He will participate in a three-week cultural and academic program focusing on the theme "Identity and Nationhood through the lens of Wales," at a critical juncture in the politics of Wales, the U.K., and more broadly, Europe.

"I hope to fulfill the goals of the program and return to campus as a leader ready to tackle difficult issues with an effective set of skills and experiences gained through the time spent with my cohort abroad," said Condon. "What America needs is strong leaders in local communities who are passionate about issues and are prepared to stand firm and advocate for what they believe in while allowing for healthy debate. I want to embrace the opportunities Wabash and programs like the UKSI offer, specifically improving my leadership proficiency and the ability to have real-world, hands-on experiences with other nations and cultures."

UKSI placements provide participants with a distinctive support and cultural education program, including comprehensive pre-departure guidance, enrichment opportunities in the U.K., and an opportunity to be a part of the Fulbright alumni network.

"The UKSI program is one of the few nationally competitive fellowship opportunities open to freshmen and sophomores, and for that reason it is highly sought by bright, talented underclassmen across the U.S.," said Susan Albrecht, Wabash Fellowship Advisor. "Tobey is clearly a very thoughtful individual who's genuinely eager to learn. I have no doubt that he will seek out and fully embrace every opportunity for intellectual exploration and community engagement while he is in Wales."

In selecting the 60 participants for the UKSI, the UK-US Fulbright Commission looks not only for academic excellence but a focused application, a range of extracurricular and community activities, demonstrated ambassadorial skills, and a plan to give back to the recipient's home country upon return.

A PPE major and Classics minor, Condon is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, he plays euphonium in the Wabash Pep Band, participates in the Wabash Public Discourse initiative, and works in the Ramsey Archives on campus. The UKSI will be his first experience abroad.

"Linking raw smarts and a hearty appetite for change with a nuanced view of the world and a welcome humility, Tobey stands ready both to contribute much to, and to gain much from, the Fulbright Summer Institute," said Jeremy Hartnett, professor of Classics.

"Tobey will bring a full and varied suite of talents to the UKSI, which will enrich and deepen the interaction among participants while endowing him with a life-changing experience that will pay dividends in the near- and long-term."

Condon is among the many Wabash men who have earned highly competitive fellowships in the last decade, including the Rhodes, Marshall, Truman, Obama Voyager, Yenching, Goldwater, and Point Foundation Flagship Scholarships. Additionally, Wabash students have earned the Center for the Study of Presidency and Congress' Presidential Fellowship and NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, to go with 26 Fulbrights and 26 Gilman Scholarships.

"I am excited to have been accepted into this program. Before coming to Wabash, I never would have believed the range and depth of opportunities and the wealth of resources made available to me at every turn, especially as a freshman," said Condon. "From my fraternity brothers and classroom peers to the faculty and staff on campus, knowing that I have the whole Wabash community at my back pushing me to succeed means the world to me. I couldn't have done any of this without them."

MCCF Recognizes Volunteers At Annual Meeting

Montgomery County Community Foundation held its Annual Meeting Thursday, May 18 at the Hoosier Heartland State Bank's Success Center. President Jim McBee presided over the meeting. Following the standard items of business, outgoing and incoming board members were recognized. The lone outgoing board member was Jim McBee. During his two terms, in addition to serving as president, he was a former vice president and treasurer. He chaired the Investment Committee, the Audit and Finance Committee and was on the Executive Committee. Newly elected board members recognized were Tracey Barr, Jack Grimble, and Brenda Lovold. Incumbent board member, Ron Dickerson will serve an additional year to assist the board with a special project. The balance of the 13-member board includes: Erin Gobel, Cathy Caldwell, Debbie Schaviatello, Preston Bost, Anna Bravo-Moore, Wendy Feller, Sheila McCormick, Zach Hockersmith, and Marta Sweek.

Since 1996, the recognition of outstanding volunteers has been a staple of the MCCF Annual Meeting. Two awards were presented, one to an adult and another, the Peggy Herzog Youth Volunteer award goes a young person.

The 2023 MCCF Volunteer of the Year is Nancy Sennett, nominated for her service to the Montgomery County Free Clinic. After a long and successful career in health-care, serving on the Free Clinic's board seemed the natural way for Nancy to share her time and talents with the community. But when an unexpected health emergency caused the then MCFC Executive Director to step down, Nancy resigned her board role and took on the executive director's position in a volunteer capacity. During that time the board took the time to restructure staffing, develop a strong resource development plan, and search for and hire the clinic's first dedicated chief executive. Her leadership during that pivotal time kept the clinic running smoothly while maintaining the highest standard of care for the patients.

McBee presented Sennett with a plaque commemorating her service and a $1,000 grant Montgomery County Free Clinic in her honor.

Seven other individuals were nominated. McBee presented each with a Certificate of Recognition and a small gift.

Amy Cochran, Montgomery County Youth Service Bureau - Amy has served as a long-time mentor with the JUMP program, and now for the past six years, has served on the Youth Service Bureau Board of Directors.

Sally Gooden, Animal Welfare League - A former AWL board member, Sally continues to volunteer, nearly daily to complete office work and other duties in the building as needed, and occasionally transports cats and dogs to various spay and neuter clinic in the area.

Mary Sue Measel, Pam's Promise Transitional Housing - Mary is one of the longest serving volunteers at Pam's Promise, serving as the financial director.

Mike Reidy, Crawfordsville Masonic Temple Foundation - Mike serves on the board but his work doesn't end in the board room. He is always eager to help with events and projects, no matter how hard or how dirty.

Karen Thada, Crawfordsville Main Street - Karen's quiet servant-leadership skills have been a constant through her board service and as a committee and event volunteer.

Ann Watson, Crawfordsville District Public Library - Ann has been a Homebound Program volunteer for 17 years, delivering books to patrons who cannot get out.

Richard "Dick" Young, Grace & Mercy Food Pantry - Dick has served as the Operations Director of the Pantry for over 10 years. He is there 4-5 days handling every aspect of the operation which is open to the public 3 days per week.

Next up was the Peggy Herzog Youth Volunteer of the Year Award, which went to Melanie Dowd for her service to The Kid's Closet. For two years this young teen has been doing laundry, tackling three to six 33 gallon bags of clothes at a time! She washes it, dries it, and neatly folds it, and then returns it to The Kids Closet to be distributed to children in need. A real leader, she has recruited her school friends to help too. They have made new labels for storage tote and are organizing a clothing drive.

McBee presented Dowd with a plaque commemorating her service along with a $1,000 check to The Kid's Closet in honor of her service.

McBee wrapped up the accomplishments of 2022 in which $1.6 million was awarded in grants and scholarships. A video capturing highlights of the past year was shown. The video, along with the electronic version of the 2022 Annual Report is on the MCCF website, www.mccf-in.org. The meeting adjourned.

board cut to all Social Security recipients (which would happen if the Trust Fund reserves were depleted) would be political suicide. Therefore, I'm confident that reform will occur in time, and I don't suggest changing your Social Security claiming strategy over worries about Social Security's solvency.

Let me further allay your fears by explaining what would hypothetically happen in the worst case scenario (if Congress doesn't act and Trust Funds are depleted). If that were to occur, when the reserves are depleted in about 2033 everyone would face an across the board benefit cut. Social Security can't go bankrupt because there would still be about 175 million workers contributing to the program but, since Social Security (by law) can only pay benefits from revenue received, everyone's benefit would be reduced by about 23% (according to the Trustees). Every beneficiary would still get benefits, but only to the extent available from income received. Which brings me to your specific question - whether it is still wise to wait until age 70 to claim (or to claim your benefits now).

Ask yourself this question: which would result in a larger monthly payment, a 23% cut to your age 70 SS payment amount, or a 23% cut to your current benefit amount? The answer, of course, is that your monthly payment would be more if you stay with your current strategy and wait until age 70 to claim (a plan which I assume you developed considering your current financial needs as well as your life expectancy, both of which are very important to that decision).

Again, I do not believe the worst case scenario will happen. Congress already knows how to restore Social Security to full solvency, and they will almost certainly act in time to avoid an across the board cut to everyone's benefit. The Association of Mature American Citizens (AMAC) has proposed legislation which would restore the Social Security program to full solvency for generations without raising payroll taxes, a summary of which you are welcome to review here: www.amac.us/social-security. AMAC has provided this proposal to various members of Congress for consideration.

UV rays from sun exposure are a major cause of skin cancer because they produce free radicals. The good news? You can neutralize their negative effects with a daily supplement that has antioxidant properties, such as Heliocare Daily Use Antioxidant Formula. Each dose of Heliocare -- a dermatologist-recommended, natural daily supplement -- has 240mg of Fernblock PLE technology, an exclusive extract with antioxidant properties from the Polypodium Leucotomos plant. Studies have shown that Polypodium Leucotomos helps to counteract free radicals and decrease their damaging effects.

"Taking a supplement such as Heliocare is a great idea, because unlike sunscreen, it doesn't wash away," says Dr. Nazarian. "Incorporating it into your morning routine along with your SPF can help you start the day with peace of mind."

3. Reduce exposure. You can greatly reduce your sun exposure by choosing to be in the shade while you're outdoors, and by wearing a hat and protective clothing. These days, there are special UPF fabrics to consider that offer UV protection. Simply wearing long, loose-fitting clothing that covers your arms and legs can also make a big difference in keeping you cool and protected.

4. Don't wait. Finally, don't wait for a special occasion such as a beach or pool day to take precautions. Exposure to the sun and other damaging elements happens all the time, even when you're indoors. So be sure to protect your skin from the inside out every day, this season, and beyond.

To learn more and to access additional skin care information, visit heliocare.com.

As you enjoy a season of sun, take care of your long-term health and wellness. Adopt a skin protection regimen and be sure to keep it up all year long.
