➔ THREE THINGS You Should Know:

1 Food fraud happens when suppliers intentionally lie to customers about the quality or ingredients in food products, like cutting olive oil with vegetable oil. It's a tough crime to catch, as foods can be altered anywhere along a global supply chain. Food fraud can lead to health risks and provide an economic advantage to dishonest food producers. Rajwa says his team is developing ways to identify fake food using "food fingerprinting." This method involves using different forms of spectroscopy to figure out which foods are fraudulent and which are genuine. 2 The Montgomery County Relay for Life is dedicated to helping communities attack cancer. Through funds donated, time given, or awareness raised, communities are teaming up to make a difference. You can participate by forming a team, raising money and celebrating at the event while honoring survivors and remembering lives touched by purchasing a lumina. Please help spread the word to help them grow the success of this event! Click the button to visit the website to register a team and for more information.

3 The TASTE! of Montgomery County begins at noon on TOMORROW and runs until 10 p.m. At the gate, admission is $7 for adults and $3 for students. Visitors can purchase advance sale Taste tickets at the Carriage House Interpretive Center of the General Lew Wallace Study & Museum, home of the Taste; the Montgomery County Visitors and Convention Bureau on the first floor of Fusion 54 at 101 West Main Street; Milligan's Flowers & Gifts at 115 East Main; Crawfordsville Parks & Recreation Community Center at 922 E. ### Ask Rusty - What About All The Money Congress Stole From Social Security?

Dear Rusty: Is there any way that Congress will vote to pay back the Social Security funds they took for their stupid reasons, and left IOUs in place of the funds? Because of the funds they took going back many years, we didn't have any decent COLAs for a few years. In fact, there were I think 3-5 years that we didn't get any COLA. Please Rusty, can you find out if this is true or false? Help us seniors! Signed: Resentful Senior

Dear Resentful Senior: I can assure you that I've fully investigated the allegation that politicians have squandered Social Security's money and found that charge to be, simply speaking, a myth. I've gone back and looked at Social Security revenues and expenses since the government first started collecting FICA payroll taxes in 1937 and found that every dollar ever collected for Social Security has been used only for Social Security purposes. Over the years, various claims have been made that the money has been used for other things, but I've researched each of these charges and found them all to be false.

Where the misconception mostly originates is that any excess money collected from working Americans for Social Security is invested in "special issue government bonds" which pay interest, as mandated by President Roosevelt when Social Security began. As with any investment, a financial obligation instrument is given in return for dollars received. Remember when we used to buy "U.S. Savings Bonds?" We'd use our money to buy those bonds, hold them, and later redeem them for a higher amount than we paid. That's exactly how Social Security contributions have always worked - excess money collected from working Americans is used to purchase special issue government bonds which are held in reserve, earning interest, for future Social Security needs. These special bonds reside in a Social Security Trust Fund and, as of the end of 2022, were worth about $2.8 trillion. Are these bonds "worthless IOUs" as some would claim? Hardly, since they are redeemable as needed to pay Social Security benefits.

Considering that, since 2010, Social Security's income from payroll taxes on American workers has been less than needed to cover benefits paid

"The Good News Is Our Constitution Is Built For Battle," Says Michael Maibach

By John Grimaldi

Michael Maibach, founder of the Center for the Electoral College, says the National Popular Vote Compact (NPVC) is "a real threat to our presidential elections." That's how he put it in an interview with Rebecca Weber, CEO of the Association of Mature American Citizens and host of AMAC's Better For America podcast.

Weber explained, "the NPVC would nullify the Electoral College without a constitutional amendment."

Maibach said "the Electoral College is a unique design among all the republics in the world. It actually makes us more democratic than almost any republic. But it's been a controversial topic since the election of 1824 when Andrew Jackson was defeated by John Quincy Adams in a House of Representatives vote because no one had won the majority of the electors... Fast forward, we really didn't hear a lot about the Electoral College until 2001, [during the] Bush v. Gore Florida recount, and where Mr. Gore got a few hundred thousand more votes than Bush, but Bush won the election with the Electoral College. But he also won 30 of the 50 states. People forget that sometimes, just like Mr. Trump won 30 of the 50 states against Mrs. Clinton. Those were the two elections that caused a lot of controversy."

In effect, he said, the NPVC is a way to "get around the Electoral College without amending the Constitution, because it takes 38 states to amend the Constitution and 38 small states are not going to have the big cities rule." So, he said, the plan is to encourage state legislatures to pass laws giving 'electors' the right to pick a president and, so far, 16 states and 205 electors are on board. The goal is 270 electors who would be tasked with electing a president.

Maibach said "It's not going to be in 2024. But it might be in 2028. [If so] we have a constitutional crisis. The 16 states include California, Washington, Oregon, most of New England, not New Hampshire, but New York, New Jersey, and Illinois. And now Minnesota. In each case, they've had a House, Senate, and a governor who are

This Fall, Older Adults Should Protect Their Health

(StatePoint) With cold and flu season upon us, it's time to protect yourself, not only from those seasonal threats, but also from other health risks.

"During the holidays, our lives get very busy with family and friends," said Dr. J.B. Sobel, chief medical officer for Cigna Healthcare's Medicare business. "Before then, please take time to ensure you get the preventive care you need to stay healthy."

Preventive care is critical for everybody, but particularly for older adults, and especially in fall when risks can increase, Sobel said. Recommendations vary based on age, gender and health status, but the following are some of the most common for seniors, according to Sobel.

Vaccinations

There are a number of vaccines older adults need to consider to protect themselves. Flu and pneumonia, for example, are among some of the most common causes of senior deaths. There is no "one-size-fits-all" approach to vaccina-

4th Grade Field Days at Cain Farms celebrates 25 years of fun tradition.

SWCD Celebrates 25 Years Of Cain's Field Days

The Montgomery County Soil and Water Conservation District is celebrating 25 years of 4th Grade Field Days. Field Days are held in Darlington each August and every 4th grader in the county is invited to attend. Students rotate through eight stations and learn about a variety of topics including water quality, wetlands, pollinators, and forestry. There are educational talks and hands-on activities that aim to jumpstart students' interest in the environment and protecting our natural resources. The event spans two days each year and requires over 25 people and hundreds of volunteer hours to run the event. The Cains have hosted Field Days since the late 1990s. Conservation is at the forefront of the family's farming operations. They believe in the importance of starting conservation education early and that we all have a responsibility to care for the land.

For resources, as well as upcoming events, visit The Montgomery County Soil and Water Conservation District's website at www.montgomery-coswcd.com. All meetings and events are open to the public and most services, including invasive species and soil health site visits, are free!

Eight Students Complete Emergency Medical Responders Course

Personnel from Montgomery County Volunteer Fire Departments recently took part in an Emergency Medical Responders course. The course was taught by the Crawfordsville Fire Department as part of the contract between the City of Crawfordsville and Montgomery County as part of the countywide EMS.

The students participated in the 64-hour course to learn assessment and treatment techniques to be used during medical or trauma emergencies that will stabilize patients prior to arrival of the Paramedics coming from Crawfordsville.

The eight students, comprised of responders from Coal Creek Township FD, Madison Township FD, New Market FD, Ripley Township FD, Walnut Township FD, and Waynetown FD, successfully demonstrated competency of practical skills that were established by the State of Indiana as well as passing a written examination established by the State of Indiana.

All eight students have now been certified and are serving their respective communities. Crawfordsville Fire Department would like to congratulate all students on their success passing this challenging course.

Intern With The Indiana Senate

SPENCER DEERY
Guest Column

The Indiana Senate Republican Caucus is offering paid spring-semester internships in its communications, information technology, legal, legislative, page and policy offices during the 2024 legislative session.

Qualified candidates may be of any major and must be at least a college sophomore. Recent college graduates, as well as graduate and law school students, are also encouraged to apply. Positions are open to Indiana residents, as well as nonresidents who attend an Indiana college or university.

Interns earn a $900 bi-weekly stipend and benefit from scholarship and academic credit opportunities, professional development, community involvement and networking.

Senate internships are full-time positions at the Statehouse in Downtown Indianapolis that typically begin with a mandatory orientation in late December and conclude at the end of the legislative session in March 2024.

Local Farms Awarded Hoosier Homesteads

Two locally owned farms were honored with Hoosier Homestead Awards at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Wednesday, Aug. 16.

The Basinger Farm, in operation since 1918, received the centennial award and the Coleman Farm, in operation since 1824, received the sesquicentennial award.

The Hoosier Homestead Award program honors families who have made significant contributions to Indiana agriculture. In the past 47 years, more than 5,800 farms have received the honor.

These farms are amazing examples of Hoosier farmers' perseverance. The agriculture industry contributes $35.1 billion to Indiana's economy, and I am happy to see the families who help make our state strong receive the recognition they deserve.

To be named a Hoosier Homestead, farms must be owned by the same family for at least 100 consecutive years and consist of more than 20 acres or produce more than $1,000 of agricultural products per year. The award distinctions are Centennial, Sesquicentennial and Bicentennial – for 100, 150 and 200 years, respectively.

out, redemption of bonds held in the Trust Fund is the only reason that Social Security has been able to continue paying full benefits to every beneficiary. The Trust Fund is a financial safety net which is now protecting all SS beneficiaries from having their benefits cut. Problem is, unless Congress acts soon to reform Social Security's financial picture, the Trust Fund will be fully depleted in about 2033 resulting in about a 23% cut in everyone's monthly Social Security benefit. I'm optimistic that will not happen (it would be political suicide) and, hopefully, Congress will act soon to reform Social Security and restore it to financial solvency and avoid a future cut in everyone's benefits.

Regarding COLA (Cost of Living Adjustment) and the lack thereof for several past years, COLA is determined by the government's standard inflation measure – the Consumer Price Index (CPI). There were several years (2010, 2011, and 2016) in which the CPI showed no inflation so, therefore, no COLA increase was given. Last year, due to soaring inflation, everyone got an 8.7% increase in their Social Security benefit, but that doesn't happen every year. FYI, the average annual COLA increase over the last two decades has been about 2.6%, although COLA can be wildly different depending on each year's inflation measure. In any case, the lack of a COLA increase in past years was not a result of any political chicanery, it was the result of low inflation during those years.

all of one party, the Democratic Party.” He described it as a “de facto project of that party. I'm sorry to say, I don't want to be partisan, but those are the facts. What it says is, no matter how our voters in our states vote, our electors will be told to vote for whoever wins the national popular vote. That's what it says about their level of respect for the voters. [Thus, it says] people in California and New York ought to choose our president rather than the voters of our own state.

are much more unstable than our system, we have a very stable system. The question is not, do we have the right Constitution for the difficult times we're going through. I would argue, the division in America today is as bad as it was in the Civil War. Although it hasn't come to violence, we certainly are dividing into blue and red states, and that's unfortunate. But the question is, are our citizens prepared to defend the Constitution that they've been given? And I think we are. I like to say that you can either be grateful for what we've inherited, or you can be resentful. Unfortunately, so many people on the left are resentful of everything they've inherited, and yet the idea of building something sturdy doesn't seem to occur to them so much. People who are grateful are also going to build on what they've inherited, and that's what we have. The world's oldest and best Constitution; it's the oldest Constitution on the planet, and we ought to be defending it every day.”

In conclusion, Maibach summed up his thoughts this way: “The good news is our Constitution is built for battle. We have not missed a four-year presidential election since 1788. Including, right in the middle of the Civil War, Lincoln was re-elected, my gosh, we had 700,000 people dead on the battlefield and we were able to do this. In contrast, the British have had three Prime Ministers in the last year, and in the last two years, the Israelis have had five Prime Ministers in that period. Parliamentary systems tion. Timing and frequency vary, depending on your health history. Ask your health care provider which vaccines are appropriate for you.

•Flu. This vaccine is administered annually, generally before the end of October, and is designed to match the latest circulating flu strains.

•Pneumonia. Administration varies based on health history. If you're 65 or older and you've never had the vaccine before, then you'll likely need two shots, which are administered a year apart.

•Shingles. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends two doses of the shingles vaccine for healthy adults aged 50 and older, spaced two to six months apart, to prevent shingles and related complications.

•COVID-19. Ask your doctors about current recommendations for prevention of COVID-19 infections.

•RSV. Earlier this year, the Federal Drug Administration approved two separate vaccines to address respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) in older adults. RSV, a common respiratory infection, usually causes mild, cold-like symptoms, but can be more severe in older adults and children. Talk to your doctor about whether you should get an RSV vaccine.

Health Screenings
The following health screenings are commonly recommended for older adults.

•Mammogram. Breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in women in the United States, according to the CDC. Every woman is at risk, and risk increases with age. Fortunately, breast cancer can often be treated successfully when found early. The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) recommends women 50 to 74-years-old at average risk get a mammogram every two years.

•Colorectal screening. Colorectal cancer risk increases with age. Screenings can find precancerous polyps early, so they can be removed before they turn into cancer. The USPSTF recommends colorectal cancer screening for adults age 45 to 75. Though colonoscopy is the most comprehensive test, there are other options you may consider with the help of your provider.

•Bone density scan. USPSTF recommends women aged 65 and older, and women 60 and older at increased risk, be routinely screened for osteoporosis, a disease in which bones become weak and brittle. Screening may facilitate treatment that helps prevent fractures.

•Eye exam. Routine eye exams can identify early signs of eye disease that are more likely as people age. People with diabetes in particular are prone to retinopathy, which leads to vision loss. It's recommended that people with diabetes have annual retinal screenings.

•Mental health checkup. Many people experience seasonal depression during fall. Mental health is strongly linked to physical health. Talk to your health care provider about both, including your personal and family history. They can connect you with additional mental health resources.

To prevent unpleasant surprises, Sobel suggests talking with your health care provider, pharmacist or insurer about preventive care costs. Fortunately, costs are often covered fully by Medicare or Medicare Advantage, he said.
